JPM US Hedged Equity Laddered Overlay Active UCITS ETF - USD (acc)

a Share Class of JPMorgan ETFs (Ireland) ICAV – US Hedged Equity Laddered Overlay Active UCITS ETF. The management company is JPMorgan Asset Management (Europe) S.à r.l.

Objectives and Investment Policy

Investment Objective: The objective of the Sub-Fund is to provide long-term capital growth.

Investment Policy: The Sub-Fund pursues an actively-managed investment strategy.
The Sub-Fund aims to (i) invest in a portfolio of equity securities comprising primarily of companies that are domiciled in, or carrying out the main part of their economic activity in the US, and (ii) purchase and sell exchange-traded put options and sell exchange-traded call options, to provide a continuous market hedge for the portfolio.
(i) Equity Portfolio
The Sub-Fund aims to invest at least 67% of its assets (excluding assets held for ancillary liquidity purposes) in equity securities issued by companies that are domiciled in, or carrying out the main part of their economic activity in the US.
The Sub-Fund may also invest in equity securities issued by companies from any other country.
(ii) Put and Call Options
The Investment Manager seeks to hedge overall market exposure relative to traditional long-only equity strategy through employing an options overlay strategy, which will be implemented by purchasing and selling exchange-traded put options and selling exchange-traded call options. The options will typically be based on the Benchmark.

In implementing the options overlay strategy, the Sub-Fund seeks to provide "laddered" exposure. To do this, the Sub-Fund typically holds options for multiple (normally) three-month periods (each, a "hedge period") staggered a month apart for the purpose of seeking to provide lower volatility in any market cycle. Laddered investing refers to the implementation of the strategy with different hedge periods, with the goal of mitigating potential risks associated with only one hedge period. The Investment Manager will have discretion to determine the amount of exposure related to each hedge period and will have flexibility to allocate the assets to a particular hedge period.

The Benchmark consists of large capitalisation stocks issued by companies in the US (("Benchmark Securities"). The Benchmark has been included as a point of reference against which the performance of the Sub-Fund may be measured and as it reflects the main investment universe for the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund will not seek to track the performance of or replicate the benchmark, rather the Sub-Fund will hold a portfolio of equity securities (which may include but will not be limited to Benchmark Securities) which is actively selected and managed with the aim of contributing to the Sub-Fund's objective of providing an income.

The Sub-Fund may, for investment purposes and efficient portfolio management purposes, use financial derivative instruments.

The degree to which the Sub-Fund may resemble the composition and risk characteristics of the Benchmark will vary over time and its performance may be meaningfully different. Additionally, the Sub-Fund's overall market exposure may vary significantly from the Benchmark as a result of its options overlay strategy.
USD is the base currency of the Sub-Fund.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower risk — Potentially lower reward | Higher risk — Potentially higher reward

1	2	3	4	5	6	7

The above rating is based on the historic volatility of the simulated Net Asset Value of this Share Class over the last five years and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of this Share Class.

The risk and reward category shown above is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may change over time.

A Share Class with the lowest risk rating does not mean a risk-free investment.

Why is this Share Class in this category? This Share Class is classified in category 6 because its simulated Net Asset Value has shown high fluctuations historically.

OTHER MATERIAL RISKS

- The value of your investment may fall as well as rise and you may get back less than you originally invested.
- The value of equity securities may go down as well as up in response to the performance of individual companies and general market conditions, sometimes rapidly or unpredictably. If a company goes through bankruptcy or a similar financial restructuring, its shares in issue typically lose most or all of their value.
- The value of FDIs can be volatile. This is because a small movement in the value of the underlying asset can cause a large movement in the value of the FDI and therefore, investment in such instruments may result in losses in excess of the amount invested by the Sub-Fund.
- While the Sub-Fund uses an options overlay strategy which is intended to provide a continuous market hedge for the portfolio, there is no guarantee that the strategy will achieve this. The "laddered" component of the strategy is designed to mitigate potential risks associated with only one hedge period, but there is no guarantee that the Investment Manager will be able to do so successfully.
- Selling call options will create exposure for the Sub-Fund, as it may have to deliver the underlying securities or their value and, should the market move unfavourably, this may result in an unlimited loss.
- For put options, if the overall market experiences a significant downturn, the value of relevant index may decline sharply and substantial losses could be incurred. The Sub-Fund's financial liability is therefore linked to the value of the underlying index.
- REITs and real estate related investments are subject to the risks associated with the ownership of real estate which may expose the relevant Sub-Fund to increased liquidity risk, price volatility and losses due to changes in economic conditions and interest rates.
- Sustainability risk may materially negatively impact the financial condition or operating performance of an issuer and therefore the value of that investment. In addition, it may increase the Sub-Fund's volatility and/or magnify pre-existing risks to the Sub-Fund.
- Further information about risks can be found in the "Risk Information" section of the Prospectus
