Physical

Xtrackers Galaxy MSCI Physical Crypto Market ETC Securities are physically backed by a direct investment in the underlying physical cryptocurrencies. The issuer has direct and sole ownership of the relevant cryptocurrencies, which are stored in one or more institutional-grade cold storage custody solution(s). Each ETC security entitles the investor to receive a specified quantity of the respective cryptocurrencies, the "Coin Entitlement", of the segregated pool owned by the issuer. The Coin Entitlements are published daily on the respective Xtrackers website. The value of the security is a function of the relevant Coin Entitlements, the relevant spot prices and any applicable fees.

Limited-Recourse

In respect of each series of ETC securities, the underlying cryptocurrencies (Secured Property) are owned by the issuer and held through the secured custodian account(s). It is further secured in favour of the trustee on behalf of the security holders. Each series of ETC securities will have recourse only to the respective secured property in relation to such series after the relevant service providers have been paid any outstanding amounts in relation to such series. Such secured property is not available to satisfy the claims in relation to a different series of ETC securities (i.e., is "ring-fenced").

Key Advantages

- Symbiotic expertise: The product draws on the symbiotic expertise of Xtrackers and Galaxy, combining Xtrackers' long-standing ETP track record with Galaxy's extensive expertise in cryptocurrencies.
- Convenient investment opportunity: A simple way to participate broadly in the value performance of the underlying cryptocurrencies. The ETC security structure fits seamlessly into traditional brokerage accounts and portfolio management structures without the need to set up cryptocurrency wallets.
- Physical backing¹: The Xtrackers Galaxy MSCI Physical Crypto Market ETC Securities are physically backed by the underlying cryptocurrencies. These are held in offline wallets, i.e. digital custody solutions that are not connected to the internet.
- Segregated wallets: Each ETC series has a legal claim to segregated cryptocurrency wallets held by the custodian(s) to ensure effective segregation of assets.
- Liquidity of Xtrackers ETC securities: Liquidity is supported by both exchange trading and a robust primary-market structure. On the secondary market, the securities trade intraday on major European stock exchanges; liquidity providers quote prices continuously. This is complemented by a strong primary-market mechanism, where Authorised Participants (APs) can create and redeem ETC units (in-kind or in cash), helping keep the price close to the intrinsic value of the underlying assets.
- Transparent value: The intrinsic value of the ETC securities and the underlying cryptocurrencies is published transparently on the Xtrackers website and via news sources, respectively. However, the values are indicative only and cannot be traded directly by investors.

Key Risks

- Non-principal protected investments: Xtrackers Galaxy MSCI Physical Crypto Market ETC Securities are non-principal protected investments, therefore an investor's capital will be at risk up to a total loss.
- Distinct risks of cryptocurrencies: Prices of cryptocurrencies are extremely volatile when compared to most (if not all) traditional asset classes. Cryptocurrencies face distinct market (including liquidity and concentration), technical, operational, legal, regulatory, custody, information security, fraud and blockchain risks.
- Market volatility affects investments: The value of the ETC securities depends on the prices of the underlying cryptocurrencies. They may go down as well as up and past performance is not a good indicator of future performance.
- Deduction of fees and no accrual of interest: Investments in cryptocurrency ETC securities will not accrue any interest and performance is subject to the deduction of the applicable fees.
- Debt security: Investing in ETC securities will not make an investor the owner of the underlying cryptocurrencies.
- Counterparty risk: The ETC program relies on multiple counterparties which leads to counterparty risk.
- Secondary market pricing: Pricing of the ETC securities on the secondary market may be at a significant discount or premium compared to the Value per ETC Security (intrinsic value) published by the Issuer.
- Exchange rate: The price of cryptocurrencies is generally quoted in US dollars. If a security holder values cryptocurrencies in another currency, the value will be affected by changes in the exchange rate.
