

Vanguard® Tax Reporting information - Italian Reduced Rate Percentage Report (IRRP)

Exchange-Traded Funds

The information below relates to the non-mandatory reporting of the Italian Reduced Rate Percentage (IRRP). Profits derived by Italian taxable investors from direct investment in eligible assets (i.e. Italian government bonds and other eligible securities) are generally subject to a lower Withholding tax (WHT) rate. In order to prevent 'indirect' (i.e. investments via funds) investment in eligible assets being subject to the higher WHT rate, a fund may determine the portion of distributed income which is derived from investing in eligible assets by applying the IRRP, to which the lower WHT rate applies.

The information in this document does not constitute legal, tax, or investment advice. You must not, therefore, rely on the content of this document when making any investment decisions.

Investment risk information

The value of investments, and the income from them, may fall or rise and investors may get back less than they invested.

The Funds may use derivatives in order to reduce risk or cost and/or generate extra income or growth. The use of derivatives could increase or reduce exposure to underlying assets and result in greater fluctuations of the Fund's net asset value. A derivative is a financial contract whose value is based on the value of a financial asset (such as a share, bond, or currency) or a market index.

Some funds invest in emerging markets which can be more volatile than more established markets. As a result the value of your investment may rise or fall. Investments in smaller companies may be more volatile than investments in well-established blue chip companies.

Funds investing in fixed interest securities carry the risk of default on repayment and erosion of the capital value of your investment and the level of income may fluctuate. Movements in interest rates are likely to affect the capital value of fixed interest securities. Corporate bonds may provide higher yields but as such may carry greater credit risk increasing the risk of default on repayment and erosion of the capital value of your investment. The level of income may fluctuate and movements in interest rates are likely to affect the capital value of bonds.

ETF shares can be bought or sold only through a broker. Investing in ETFs entails stockbroker commission and a bid-offer spread which should be considered fully before investing. Some funds invest in securities which are denominated in different currencies. Movements in currency exchange rates can affect the return of investments.
